God has not promised skies always blue,
Flower-strewn pathways all our lives thru;
God has not promised sun without rain,
Joy without sorrow, peace without pain.
But God has promised strength for the day,
Rest for the laborer, light on the way;
Grace for the trial, help from above, Unfailing sympathy, undying love.

tive qualities Sunday by accommodating 15 ships of various types, all the way from military machines of the 154th Observation Squadron, Little Rock, to the lighter models of civilian owners.

The field was soaked with a 16-hour storm—one of the heaviest of the year—yet none of the planes nosed over, and all of them maneuvered without difficulty on the well-drained sod of Hope's landing field.

The other principal feature of the dedication program was the opening address by Congressman Tilman B. Parks, at 2 p. m.

Air aerobatics were limited to a parachute jump by a Memphis negro from an altitude of 5,000 feet, but his judgment of the wind was in error, and he landed a considerable distance from the airport.

Events on the field were checked all afternoon by an inspector from the Department of Commerce.

Although Green's accident was no fault of his ship, the "jinx" that attaches to planes which have been in previous crashes, appeared in this one. Green was flying the same plane in which Oscar Nash, of Texarkana, was killed June 22, 1928, at Spring Lake Park, near that city. At that time, however, the machine tried to vault a row of trees at the take-off, and failed.

Other Cities Help

Green was one of six visiting pilots from Texarkana, which, with Little Rock, sent the bulk of planes that helped Hope open her airport successfully Sunday.

For a time Sunday morning it looked as though the celebration would be called off. Rain fell continuously from 7:30 Saturday night to 1 p. m. Sunday—at times raging with all the fury of a fall cloudburst. The airport was drenched, and the entire county flooded. But the crowds poured in from adjoining towns, the planes had already left Little Rock and Texarkana—and then shortly after 1 p. m. the weather cleared, Sunday afternoon turning out to be an ideal flying date.

week of intermittent rains caused the overflow. Farmers in the flooded section Saturday estimated that loss to date has been 50 per cent of the expected yield.

A Real Surprise!

Russia Is Anxious For Tourist Money

Several Stores Are Set Up Where Only American Travelers May Trade

By STANLEY P. RICHARDSON MOSCOW. (AP)—Dollars are in great demand in Russia.

Since the ruble has no standing in international exchange, the government needs dollars—as well as other foreign currencies—with which to settle for its purchases abroad.

Getting them from foreigners is one way of obtaining them.

As the sole shop-keeper of the nation, the government for this purpose, and also for the convenience of strangers in Russia, has set up special stores in Moscow and other centers, catering to foreigners and in which only "valuta," or foreign money, may be spent.

These stores are called "torgsin" (trade with foreigners), and the goods they offer include both food and general merchandise of a type for above that for sale to the proletarian population in the stores at which only accredited citizens of the U. S. S. R. may trade.

Here one may buy choice antique rugs, linens, furniture, food delicacies which have no place in the ordinary shops and wide varieties of clothing, all at prices which are reasonable compared to the general cost of living in Russia.

Similarly two of the better hotels in Moscow accept only "valuta." One of them recently opened an American bar and restaurant as an attraction for visitors. Here tourists can dine, dance to jazz band music and drink the offerings of pre-prohibition America—but only for "valuta."

The foreigner entering Russia is asked to declare the exact amount of foreign currency he brings in with him, thus affording the government a record of what it can count on in potential trade.

For the convenience of those who shortsightedly converted their money into rubles at the border and thus find themselves unable to patronize the "torgsin" and some of the hotels the state bank will cash their personal checks, in rubles, it is true, but accompanied by a receipt which permits them to spend in these places rubles to the amount of the check they cashed in terms of dollars, pounds or francs.

The government exchange rate is 5 1/2 cents to the ruble.

portion and showers occurred, many in generous amounts in nearly all sections. There was some local damage by excessive rains but the week in general was favorable.

On August 8th at 11 o'clock, Eastern standard time, the U. S. Crop Reporting Board will release its preliminary estimate of the probable 1931 cotton production and a report showing the condition of the crop as of August 1st. According to the Bureau of the Census there were operated in the United States at some time during the month of June 25.8 cotton spinning spindles compared with 25.4 for May and 27.5 for June 1930. Exports so far this season are slightly in excess of those for the corresponding period last season.

Foreign markets said that only a fair demand prevailed for American cotton. Bremen said that there was no business at the present time with the trade in general awaiting developments.

Mancheater said demand continued poor owing to the very limited inquiries for raw cotton. No grades of staples were in particular demand and spinners were said to be restricting their commitments, pending more reasonable bids for new crop shipments.

However, spinners were more optimistic about the general outlook and were buying small quantities of raw cotton at every price reaction. Stocks of both yarn and cloth were said to have been considerably reduced by recent heavy sales. The strike in the North was believed to be about over, and it was said that mills will

Cleveland Stops Athletics Streak

Waite Hoyt Drops First in Five Starts for Philadelphia

The Cleveland Indians halted the Athletics' 13-game winning streak Sunday with a 13-to-2 defeat. Waite Hoyt, who won his first four starts with Philadelphia, went down under a deluge of hits, and Rommel, who succeeded him in the Philadelphia box, did but little better. Hoyt was charged with the defeat. Pitcher Harper for the Indians was good all the way, holding the Athletics batsmen to nine safeties.

Cleveland connected safely 15 times off Hoyt in six innings, and four times against Rommel in two innings.
Washington also lost, Goose Goslin and the St. Louis Browns stretching six hits into a 5-to-2 victory. Boston broke even with Detroit, winning the first of a double-header 7 to 6 in 10 innings, but losing the second game 7 to 3. The New York Yanks broke even also, dropping the first game 5 to 4, but winning the second 22 to 5.

Maine, New Jersey, New York, Min-

Arkansans Favor Big Caliber Guns

New National Guard Unit Said to Reflect tradi- tions of Southwest

WASHINGTON.—The ancient prejudice existing in the Southwest against small caliber arms—a prejudice which for many years frowned upon any six-shooter smaller than a .45—extends in Arkansas to small bore cannon, Major Gen. William G. Everson, chief of the Militia Bureau, said Thursday.

Commenting upon the record speed made by the Arkansas National Guard in organizing the recently authorized regiment of 155 M-M tractor-drawn Howitzer guns, General Everson said popular sentiment in the state strongly favors the big-caliber howitzers.
To obtain the regiment of heavy field pieces, the Arkansas National Guard was compelled to abandon an ambulance company and a hospital company, transferring the personnel of these units to the howitzer regiment.
Present allotment of national guard forces in Arkansas includes: Three units of corps troops, namely, the 154th Observation Squadron (Aviation), a medical department detachment corps (aviation), the newly organized 143d Field Artillery, equipped with 155 M-M howitzers. One unit of army troops, the 266th Coast Artillery (anti-aircraft), and one unit of special allotment troops, the 153d Infantry regiment. Allotted personnel for these activities embraces 171 officers, two warrant officers and 2,236 enlisted men.

Bad Luck Myth Halts English Coin Circulation

LONDON.—(AP)—England has two coins which are seldom seen and not much wanted by superstitious Britons.
The 5-shilling piece, or "crown," and the 4-shilling piece are fast disappear-

To the crown attaches a bad-luck

$2 bills.

Historic Hospital Is Being Removed

Army and Navy to Erect New Building at Hot Springs

HOT SPRINGS.—(AP)—The historic old Army and Navy hospital here is being torn down to make way for a new $1,500,000 structure. Detailed plans for the new hospital will be received about September 1 and it is expected work will begin about October 1.
Meanwhile, two double sets of non-commissioned officers' quarters will be built on a site recently acquired by the army and navy post from the Hot Springs national park, through government transfer.

The new hospital will have 412 beds and will be high in the center with wings on each side. The center will be seven stories high and the wings six stories.

regarding the death of Burton Hensley months ago on a burning brush pile on the Arkansas side of the Mississippi river near Memphis, Tenn.

King was arrested here after returning from a visit to Texas.
The officers said they were seeking to determine if a watch King had was the same one Wilson carried at the time of his death. They said Wil-from his pocket when his and Hen-
